Enjoying Neighbors and Friends

In the middle of a city, set out a few acres peppered with trees and plants. Add 24 houses and a little over 30 people. These neighbors become your friends who welcome you to dinner, work beside you, laugh with you, and are there for you in time of need. This place becomes home through the close relationships you build within a cohousing community.

A diversity of residents at Oakcreek.

We were so pleased that Pat and Donna were able to represent Oakcreek at the National Cohousing Conference in Portland.

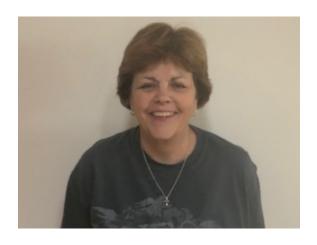

In Oakcreek's effort to conserve the environment, we have designed reusable shopping bags with our logo. Come for a tour to receive a gift.
